DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

1. Claims 1, 5-9, 11, 14 and 15 are pending.

Applicants' amendment filed on February 20, 2004 is acknowledged, and applicants' response has been fully considered. Claim 1 has been amended. Thus, claims 1, 5-9, 11, 14 and 15 are examined.

Rejection Withdrawn

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The previous rejection of claims 1, 5, 6, 8 and 11 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Guo et al. (Disi Junyi Daxue Xuebao 20 (1), 85-88, 1999), is withdrawn in view of applicants' amendment to the claim, and applicants' response at pages 5-8 in the amendment filed February 20, 2004.

3. The previous rejection of claims 1, 5, 6, 8 and 11 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Margel et al. (Analytical Biochemistry 128, 342-350 (1983)), is withdrawn in view of applicants' amendment to the claim, and applicants' response at pages 5-8 in the amendment filed February 20, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1653

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 1, 5-8 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Anselmann et al. (WO 98/12727, see attached English Translation).

Anselmann et al. teach the preparation of monodisperse magnetic particles with a particle size of 50-1500 nm, where a spherical silicon dioxide core is coated with magnetic particles of  $\text{Fe}_3\text{O}_4$  having a maximum particle size of 60 nm and having a cover layer of silicon dioxide, which has free or hydrated OH group on the surface (page 3, paragraphs 4 and 6 of English translation; page 7, paragraph 2; claim 8), and the surface of the magnetic particles can be modified by a silanizing agent of formula (I), which have functional groups (e.g., a hydrophobic group of alkyl C1-6 and a hydrophilic group of COOR) with which reversible binding of the material to be separated to the magnetic particles can be achieved (page 6, paragraph 4-page 7, paragraph 1; claims 1, 5-7 and 11). Although Anselmann et al. do not specifically disclose the isolation of the biotinylated protein from aqueous solution, the reference teaches magnetic particles used to isolate nucleic acid, biotin and biotinylated proteins from aqueous solutions, and provides the isolation of DNA, where DNA can be extracted from agarose gel by mixing with magnetic particles in the buffer, removing the remaining liquid from the particles, washing the magnetic particles with a buffer at least once, and the magnetic particles are then dried and resuspended in tris-HCl buffer, and the DNA is eluted with a buffer solution which can be separated from the magnetic particles in a magnetic field (page 7, paragraphs 3-5). At the time the invention was made, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to isolate proteins using the procedure for isolating DNA as indicated in the reference because Anselmann et al. indicate the magnetic particles modified with a silanizing agent of formula (I) are to be used in the isolation of biotinylated proteins among others from aqueous solutions (claim 5 of the WO document). Thus, the reference suggests the claimed invention and was, as a whole, prima facie obvious at the time the claimed invention was made.

5. Claims 9, 14 and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. Claims 1, 5-8 and 11 are rejected, and claims 9, 14 and 15 are objected to.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 1653

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
